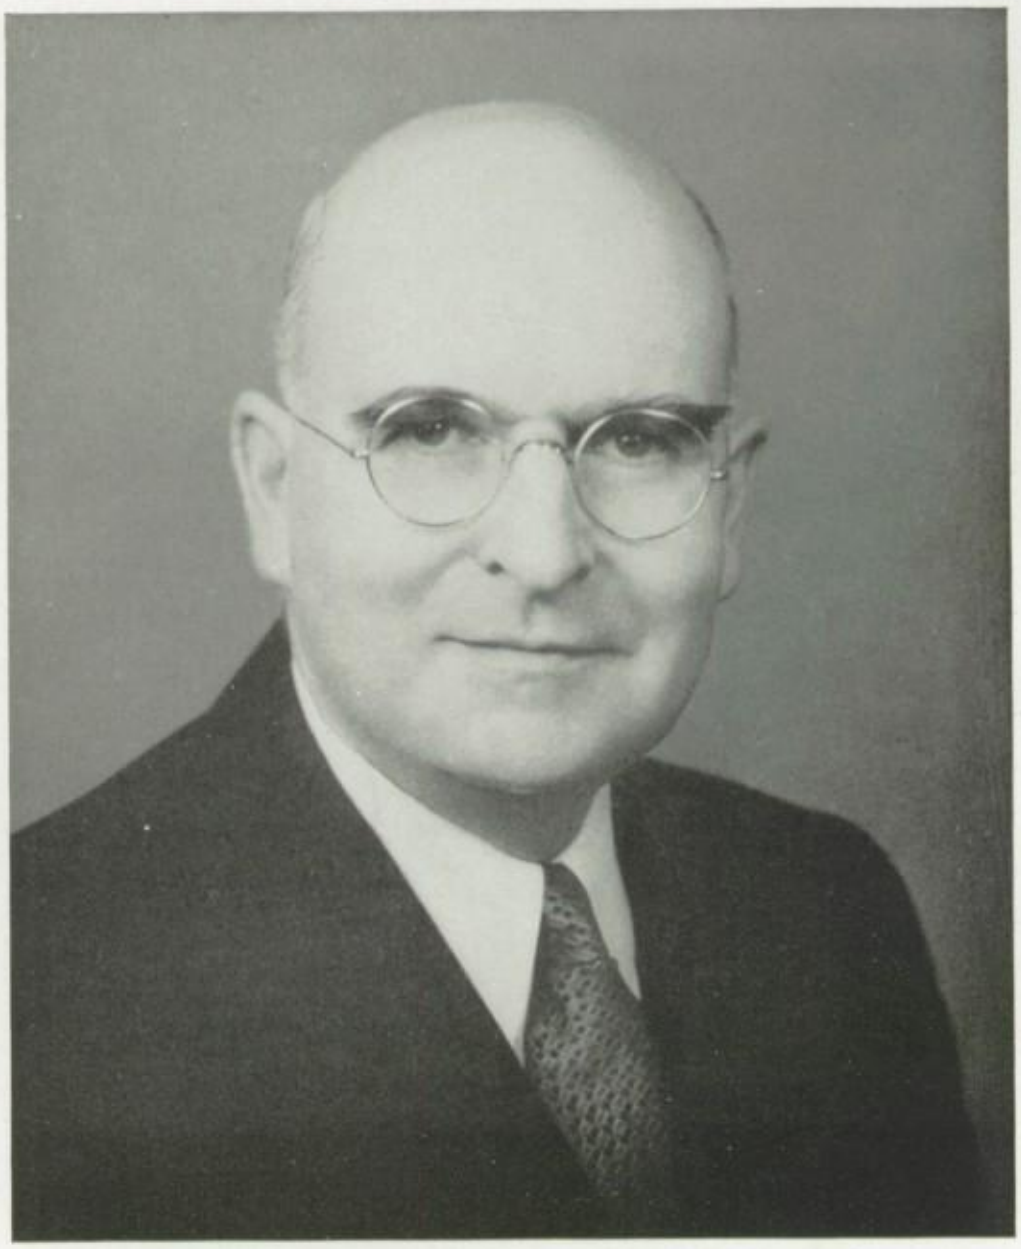
WILLIAM WOODWARD

In Memoriam



Doctor Leon Denning Peaslee died on April 8, 1950. He had served at Woodward as both teacher and principal, the latter assignment extending over the period from 1940-1950. To those teachers and pupils who knew and worked with Doctor Peaslee, his death comes as a severe blow. His place will not be lightly filled nor easily taken.

Truly we may say he gave his life for his pupils. Those with whom he came in contact will not soon forget his intense and kindly interest, his high ideals, and his unfailing sympathy. No finer memorial can be reared than the one already erected in the hearts and minds of his pupils and teachers.

Doctor Peaslee's last message to the Class of 1950 appears on these pages. It expresses far better than anything which could be written, the unselfish devotion to duty which characterized Doctor Peaslee, as well as the high standards toward which he unceasingly turned the eyes of his pupils.

You, the graduates of the Class of 1950, are leaving Woodward with a definite knowledge of what you hope to accomplish; animated by great faith, you will strike out boldly and labor until you reach your goals. In doing so, you can achieve little if you go alone; you must associate with others and serve in order that you may advance your own career and the welfare of the community. Success in these two aims will indubitably be yours if you carry on in the same splendid manner that inspired others of this fine school.

For you seniors, however, the challenge is far greater. In the current crucial days of the Cold War, you must be champions not only of the American way of life, but also of the life of the world because of the ideological clash between the two conflicting codes, Communism and Democracy. This clash you must recognize as a cancerous disease, which you can help to cure, if, under wise leadership, you teach, through the processes of education, the great truth that man can live protected and secure only if he can get along with his fellows.

No matter in what sphere of enterprise you engage, you must conduct yourselves, not as national citizens, but as international citizens, whose motto shall be, "One for all, and all for one!" "When all men's good shall be each man's rule, Universal Peace shall shine like a shaft of light across the lands of the World!"

May God and Right be your standards!

L. D. Peaslee

Esse Quam Videri

. . . Our motto — has it been fulfilled? Yes, in one sense it has. We have finished our four years of high school and have striven to satisfy the qualifications of a good American citizen. In another sense our motto, "Esse Quam Videri," is still in the process of development. What are we to do after graduation? Naturally all of us shall go into different fields — medicine, law, teaching, social work. Yet our motto, "It is better to be than to seem to be," shall linger in our minds regardless of the field we choose, for its meaning is yet to be applied to our life's work.

Our thoughts begin to revolve around more serious problems as we grow older but we are not really ending our carefree schooldays. How often in the years to come shall we turn back the great clock of time as we turn the pages of our Memory Book — The Woodward Annual. The never-to-be-forgotten remembrances shall creep into our minds as we reminisce aided by the pictures of clubs, teachers, classmates, and our very special friends. We can never forget the many incidents experienced at school dances, football games, and plays; but we do realize that we are passing from this milestone to a future filled with greater responsibilities.

The class of 1950 sincerely hopes that future Woodward students continue to uphold the ideals and tradition that Woodward High School has gained because of the firm will and determination of Woodward graduates to carry out their motto, "Esse Quam Videri."

May we, the class of 1950, never forget the unceasing efforts of our teachers and advisors in helping us achieve the desired qualities of scholarship, leadership, citizenship, and, most of all, our motto, "Esse Quam Videri."

History and Tradition

"The oldest high school west of the Alleghenies" — this is Woodward High School.

Old Woodward has seemingly changed a great deal since William Woodward, its founder, provided for the building of this first Cincinnati high school in 1831. Actually it has not changed. True, there has been more than one Woodward High School, but there has been only one Woodward Spirit — though time may change the appearance of the building, it will never change the spirit on which the institution was founded. This spirit has been handed down from class to class, not as any written document, but as something intangible, not seen, and yet ever present.

The Spirit had its birth in a small two-story brick building which was the first Woodward. With the addition of another floor in 1841, more of the Cincinnati youth were given opportunity to share with others the spirit and traditions of the school.

For fourteen years, this building echoed and re-echoed the tread of young Woodward feet — then in 1855 gave way to a greater structure. This building was purely Gothic, pronounced in its architectural design and beauty. For more than half a century, the building of 1855 continued its sublime mission of service and usefulness. It stood as the representative of high ideals of life, of loyalty to home and to nation, of strong minds and great names, of consecrated teaching and high standards of scholarship. It semed almost sacrilege that it, too, should have to bow down before the onward progress of the times. Yet it had to be.

In 1910, there came another Woodward, the building of today — much greater, much grander, rising its majestic dignity towards the skies, even at its creation glorified by the sacred spirit and tradition of the Woodwards of the past and earnestly resolved to uphold and preserve them untarnished and undimmed in the years that were about to come.

For forty years, the present Woodward has continued its work of immeasurable benefit and blessing to the youth of our city — for forty years, it has through consecrated teaching exalted high and noble ideals — for forty years, it has annually sent forth hundreds of young men and women to fill positions of honor and trust throughout the length and breadth of our great land — for forty years, it has raised its head in conscious pride at the contemplation of its long years of service and usefulness.

And let us say in the beautiful language of a poetess of our own dear Woodward —

Bide in these walls, O spirit of the place,
Else have they built in vain, who built anew —
Breathe honor here and loyalty and truth
And high desire and laying down of life.
And when the day has come, in time's stern round,
When these walls shall crumble and decay,
Still hover near, O spirit of the Place,
Until a newer habitation stands
In dedication to those deathless things
Beyond decay and irony of time.

We Pledge . . . . .

. . . allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

To The Graduating Class of 1950:

The satisfaction of assisting you in your growth and knowing that you have in some measure fulfilled your desires has given me many moments of pleasure.

Because you are growing up in a confused and complicated world, you find many perplexing problems to be solved. Your parents, your spiritual leaders, your teachers and friends realizing the necessity of finding the correct solution to these problems have with honest and diligent effort tried to be of real assistance to you.

Your response in most instances has been good. Those of you who are privileged to wear the Cap and Gown are to be congratulated. You have shown by your honesty, hard work, perseverance, and good habits that you are started in the right direction. Your future efforts will determine how far you will go.

The community in which you live has the right to ask much of you. You will be expected to contribute in the way of service, money, and good citizenship. You realize the value of good conduct, good habits, and a good education. You have learned not to be discouraged when rebuffed. Your example will be an inspiration to others. Because of "you" life there will be better.

May your life bring you success and happiness!

G. H. Van Ness

May the members of the graduating class of 1950 have the best this world has to offer awaiting you as you bid farewell to high school and start out on life's journey. I want to extend hearty congratulations and best wishes to each one of you. To the graduates of the Commercial Vocational Department I offer sincere good wishes and hope that you will be successful in your permanent employment. I hope, too, that the friendships and loyalties established at Woodward may be of great influence in your future living. I feel sure that you will meet the challenge of business life with confidence and assurance. You know that you are well trained in the skills needed for your chosen work, and you should be able to take your place in the community as efficient, reliable and independent citizens of Cincinnati.

Leaving Woodward, the moment we have so eagerly looked forward to, is near at hand. Soon we will be going forth into the future — a challenge to the knowledge that we have gained here.

Some of us will further our education in institutions of higher learning, others will enter the armed services, while many of us will go directly out into the world to make a living.

In truth we leave Woodward, but Woodward will not leave us. Mention the name Woodward and it will be the key to the door of innumerable memories, both serious and pleasant; among the latter will be those of the friendships acquired here, many of which will last as long as life itself.

We can never repay the faculty for their untiring efforts to instill in our minds a sense of citizenship and to give us the best education that lay in their power.

This cannot be called a farewell to our friends and the faculty because they will always remain as vivid in our minds as they do now.

Class Prophecy

I returned to the hotel late that evening and was surprised to find a letter waiting for me. It was special delivery and had been mailed two days earlier. It bore the mark January 18, 1969.

Thinking it only some business correspondence, I stuffed it into my pocket and went wearily to my room where, after a short while, I opened it. It read:

Dear Fellow Graduate:

If it is possible, we request your presence at the Gibson Hotel Auditorium on January 20, 1969 at 7:30.

Truly yours,

Rev. Eugene Stapleton

The letter was rather vague and that coupled with hearing from Gene Stapleton after nineteen years, rather confused me. I couldn't imagine what might be so important and why me. I was pleased, however, since my work allowed me to travel a great deal and thus gave an opportunity to investigate the matter more fully. The unexpected message aroused my memories and as I lay in bed I thought back of my old gang of '50, of Dick Beyer, Harold Back and Robert Cullen, of William Manning and Larry Kilgore. We had had lots of fun. Presently my thoughts faded into sleep filled pleasantly with dreams of high school days.

Next morning I arose early in order to pack and make plane reservations. The trip to Cincinnati was but a few hours so I had no fear of arriving too late. The plane, in fact, was ahead of schedule and I found myself at Greater Cincinnati Airport in plenty of time.

I reached the Gibson Hotel about seven o'clock where, to my surprise, I found many of the old Woodward Graduates. None knew any more than I, so all we could do was mill around discussing the possibilities. Finally Eugene Stapleton appeared and explained the purpose of our meeting.

It seemed that in recent years Cincinnati had become more and more in need of an institute for its orphans and underprivileged children and that Gene and several others who had gone into church work and social work had made plans for a William Woodward Youth Foundation, which would greatly relieve the situation. The group already active toward establishing this foundation consisted of Charlotte Condia, Director of Religious Education and Youth Work, Ruth Reynolds, recently back from a missionary journey to China, and a committee from the social welfare of Gwendolyn Finney, Anna Holmes, Hattie Sims and Marie Twyman. The help of more Woodward graduates was needed, however, and thus this meeting was called.

There were about fifty of us at the first session and there was unanimous approval of the plan.

Of course the job was tremendously big and we could only hope to lay the groundwork and get things started. Eugene presented a tentative outline of his plans and work. Committees were immediately formed. A great deal of money was needed so the campaign was to be necessarily on a grand scale.

The first step was, of course, advertising. As the head of that department we chose Steve Reynolds, now a radio and T. V. personality, to handle all publicity through those mediums. He was even able to secure a T. V. show for our purpose. Working with Steve were David Thomas and Marvin Burkett, both top-notch reporters on the Enquirer. As an additional novel type of advertisement, we called on Norma Cuzzort and Charlene Lewis to prepare a short dramatic skit in pamphlet form concerning our cause. Directly related to the advertising was our art and mechanics departments. Arthur Page, who had acquired fame as a medical illustrator for the Encyclopedia Britannica, and Henry Yee, political poster designer, headed the poster designing section. Gene Fryer and the firm of Marvin Grizzard, Willie Rinehart, Printers Inc., volunteered their services as poster printers.

In order to figure expenses, actual planning of the foundation was also started. For this purpose we called in Willie Walker and a staff of seven other engineers consisting of James Carlock, John Carter, Ryland Herndon, James McCullars, John Sofer, Arthur Trice and Willie Sam Williams. Engineers David McEntyre and William Yee worked out special problems for a more efficient yet less expensive building program. The data accumulated by this group grew to such an extent that six bookkeepers, Shirley Bleh, Elizabeth Durham, Deloris English, Deloris Floyd, Bertha Lowe, and Marilou Moffett, were required to handle it.

A two section committee of business and finance was formed consisting of Willie Anderson, Walter Ennis, William Humphreys, Charles Mathews, Curtis Smith, Arthur McFarland and Belton Phillips, businessmen and Joyce Beckam, Sarah Jordan, Elizabeth Miller, and Sondra Watkins, business women. Their first step was to contact a group of secretaries of large firms who might offer the assistance of financial donations to the fund. Among those seen were Betty Surritt, Ruth Alley, Irene Watt, and Georgia Douglas. They in turn set up committees and contacted other secretaries. Eventually, Betty Boyd, Mabel Becks, Minnie Bishop, Martha Campbell and many others, combined their efforts. Such firms as General Electric, Ford Inc. and Westinghouse offered their support.

With financing and advertising well under way, a committee for the program and activities of the youth foundation was formed. Doctors Freddie Terrell and Clinton Padgett with the aid of nineteen nurses and the Cincinnati Board of Health drew up plans for a health program. Nurses Beverly Connell, Barbara Edwards, Theresa Zimmerman, Marian Jones, Ollie Logan and Charlene Turley assisted Dr. Williams and Robert Bachelor, chief cook at Terrace Plaza aided with the dietetics, while Deloris Freeman, Rose Gray, Evelyn Green, Mamie Halsell, and Johnnie Jackson joined with Freddie Terrell to plan for treatment of children's diseases. Willie Littlejohn, Marlene Luke, Betty Lou Morris, Betty Jean Redding, Bernice Sales and Geraldine Richardson helped Dr. Padgett to plan daily heath agenda. Later Bernice Benton, recently from the Wacs, and Mary Alice West arrived to work with Helen Slade, Barbara Smedley, Betty Youngblood and Barbara Dean on the Board of Health concerning hospital relations. Adina Cole set up a dental program.

All the educational plans were reviewed by a parents' advisory board. This board was made up of Joan Epure, Martha Jelks, Grace McCarnan, Mary Ann O'Brien, Katherine Pringle, Joan Wuest housewives, I can't remember their married names, and Thomas Beyer and Richard Bear, mechanics, Scott Wingate and Eugene Richardson, businessmen.

The general office, headed by Gene Stapleton and Charlotte Condia, was kept constantly busy by the committees. The Post Office even assigned a special clerk, Welton Smith, to handle the funds correspondence. His chief duty was collecting and classifying the business mail prepared by stenographers Patricia Barnes, Jeannette Carchede, Marie Coffey, Inez Crowder, Anna Griffin, Marie Jones, Jeannie Kottos, Odell Lyons, Eva Morris, Joyce Poole and Norma Rader. The general office work was done by Hattie Young, Loretta Linz, Latifa Abdullah, Ernestine Carter, Joyce Epure, Arlene Griffin, Jessie Huber, Judy Krummen, Joyce Meyers, and Sadie Strayhorne, headed by office manager Eugene McHargue.

Bookkeepers Margie Neal, Elaine O'Leary, Joyce Pretty, Gloria Risch and Geneva Mae Tyler with their comptometer operators, Hattie Young, Juanita Saylor and Jane Carcutt were required to compile, compute, and record all finances and business notes.

Each committee had a secretarial staff in the home office. The advertising department included typists, Geraldine Benford, Marian Carr, Dorothy Grisby, Inez Edmonds and stenographers Frances Robinson and Pauline Sommer. Most of the research done by our health committee was necessarily with out of town institutes similar to our Youth Foundation. As a result of this a staff of research secretaries was sent to various cities. Soon this staff, which was made up of Martha Campbell, Jean Clark, Lee Davidson, Cleo Fritts, Ruth Fugate, Joyce Golde, Lenora Henkel, Wanda Hill, and Jean Hummer, had contacted youth institutes in Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Buffalo and Charleston. As the campaign progressed the advertising department grew to be our largest unit. Three secretaries, Rozella Rains, Marlene Wyatt, and Mary Toler were required to handle all transactions with radio and television stations. The poster and campaign literature was prepared by stenographers Christine Tyree, Myrtle Wallace, Luella Ware, and Betty Haugabook. The newspaper secretarial staff found itself with a double job. Not only did it contact every paper in the city from the Truck Drivers' Union to the Sunday Enquirer, but it also had to write numerous articles. At first only Margaret Kees and Molly Lynam made up this staff but the work mounted so rapidly that soon Nancy Mohring, Norma Preston and Edna Prewitt were added. The education committee was assisted by secretaries Marcilla Schreiber, Vivian Siebenthaler, Martha Sweitzer, Sarah Thrumble and typist Sylvie Leigh.

All the financial and business transactions created a great number of legal problems. Luckily, however, our lawyers Harold Tickel, Maggie Brown, Nathaniel Godfrey, Eugene Richmond and Robert Shropshire with the aid of Certified Public Accountants Carolyn Bear and Leroy McGrath and typist Ruth Lewis and Sarah Lucky, did not have too much difficulty.

Our campaign for funds terminated six weeks after our first meeting. The campaign had been a success and, while funds were still needed, the first big step had been taken and the project was definitely under way.

As a final money raising project the entire class of "50" joined together to sponsor a hugh charity bazaar. This was also for the purpose of celebrating the completion of the first step of our job. The idea of the bazaar was suggested by Audrey Kitchen now happily married and settled down on a chicken farm, and Carlene Claunch, interior decorator. Howard Fields closed his snack and short order restaurant for a few days in order to assist these girls in the overall planning.

The affair was held in Burnet Woods. How Audrey managed to obtain permission from the park board is still a mystery, but she did. Numerous booths were set up and a large section was cleared for teen-age dancing. A special Youth Foundation orchestra was formed with James Yount, the leader. Among the members were Dorothy Bryant, Joan Carol Smith, Doris Steele, Charles Wilson, Allie Jones, James Hamilton, and Claude Hursong, Dorothy Moore and James Cowan. Anna Lee Turner and Elmo Hickman combined their talents to form a singing duo. To give the band an especially attractive appearance a group of seamstresses and tailors, including Irma Jean Hill, Sylvia McDowell, Doris Dallas, Irene Robinson, Dorothy Veal, Theresa Smith, Juanita Weaver, Eloise Wright, Claude Johnson and Alfred McCoy, designed and tailored official band uniforms for the players. Other groups and individuals prepared special attractions to raise money. Beautician Norma Pennington enlisted the help of other beauticians, Vandora Allen, Eleanor Battle, Gretchen Canada, Mary Elizabeth Cunningham, Geneva Johnson, Doris Thomas, Grace Thomas and Winifred Walker in a beauty treatment raffle.

Probably the two largest attractions were those of Donald Helbig and Clarence Bratton. Donald, a used car dealer, auctioned off a "new" Buick, and Clarence Bratton, manager of Loring Andrews Jewelry Store auctioned twenty Royal Doulton figurines. Both donated all proceeds to the fund.

All in all, the campaign and the bazaar were a success. Everyone was pleased and felt that, although they could not remain to work until The William Woodward Youth Foundation was completed, the undertaking would surely be a success.

Calendar

September

6 — Well, here we are, back at school. But we don't really mind because we are on our last ride. "Seniors." After four long years, we finally made it. "Smart Seniors," that's us. Well, seniors, anyway.

10 — Oh, have we got a team! Our boys defeated Hughes at the Pigskin Preview this evening. Good work fellows.

19 — Yea team, yea team! Yes that's right — a pep rally. With the music we make, how can our boys lose?

23 — Oh, such fun we've never had before. The A.C.G. hayride was the hit of the month. The aroma of the hay and the light of the moon made the evening so pleasant and comfortable.

25 — Gee, but it's swell to be a senior. You bet. We had a senior meeting today — thus missing one whole class. Of course we'll thank Mr. Roebuck.

28 — Senior election. Congratulations to our officers. Won't you look good on the first page of the annual. Or will you?

30 — One month is gone — only nine more months of this hard life. Here we are loaded with books, buried in homework. Oh, but my social life will suffer.

October

5 — Assembly today. What a break. Aladdin and the Lamp in puppet form. Reminds me of the past days in elementary school.

6 — Oh, happy day! Ring orders were our chief excitement today. Soon we'll be full fledged seniors.

13 — Another pep session today. How do our teachers stand it? We really raise the roof but that's what Dave asked for — and can we hand it out!

17 — What! An assembly and seniors weren't invited. Boo hoo, perhaps they left us out by accident, but we'll forgive them this time. Oh, it was a tenth grade honor assembly. Now we understand

19 — Ha ha, tenth and eleventh grade health exams. Oh well, it happened to me once, too. Don't worry — heads up — it's really not that bad.

21 — I don't understand — our underclassmen are all smiles. Oh, it's all clear now; they are having their pictures made. Save the camera — our turn next.

27 — I knew they wouldn't fail us. Woodward tied the score with Lima. We'll beat them next time, won't we fellows? Ryland Herndon broke his ankle during the process. Sorry, fellow, because you are one of our best.

28 — Aren't we happy. Teachers Convention. We call this a holiday on the teachers.

31 — Another assembly. They come quite often now, but we're not crying. We certainly enjoyed our speaker from India who talked on world affairs.

November

2 — Today we all received little white cards. Of course, I didn't see red — or did I? Nope, a misprint. Oh, won't mother be proud.

7 — Oh dear, I have to be especially sweet to my teachers today so that they'll remember me tonight. You guessed it, Parents Night.

8 — We received our class rings today. All perfect fits. Well, I'm wearing mine on my third finger, right hand because I'm waiting for something better to go on the other hand. You know it could even happen to unlucky me.

10 — An all girl assembly — a style show. Our girls really can strut. They all looked wonderful, but, then, we always do.

11 — Another legal holiday. You'll agree — Armistice Day.

18 — Woe is me. Woe is me. Woodward lost to Withrow — 36 to 0. What happened?

23 — Oh but we are lucky. Now we have Thanksgiving holidays. Who's complaining? Oh yes, Alpha is giving a Thanksgiving Dance tonight. The Young Adults Club is invited. Don't miss it; it's going to be great.

29 — Saved by the bell. You guessed. A test — but overruled by an assembly.

December

5 — Yippee, we got out of class today for a pep session. We thought we were getting a rest, but when we left the auditorium, everyone raced to the water fountains. You hear such gasps only once in a lifetime.

6 — Oh, heck, some people are always lucky. A group was chosen today to select the design for our announcements. I hope they picked the prettiest one.

7 — Gee, whiz, Santa is just around the corner. How many pennies do you have to shake out of your piggy bank?

9 — The choir rehearsed for the Christmas program today. The songs were beautiful as the melodious voices supplied music to help the students in their work.

18 — The Hi Y's are giving their Annual Christmas dance tonight. Naturally, everyone will be there.

23 — The Christmas program was beautiful as the choir sang beautifully the carols of many years ago. We wish all our teachers a "Merry Christmas".
We congratulate Mr. Kapphahn for the wonderful job he has done with our choir. We hope he has enjoyed being with us as much as we have enjoyed having him.

24 — Christmas holidays and what a relief! Do we need a rest! Perhaps the teachers will get better results when we return. Enjoy yourself, because this happens only once a year.

January

3 — Well, here we are back to books and desks. No more rest until February. Will we survive?

5 and 6 — I hope the photographer brings a few extra cameras to take our group pictures.

10 — Couldn't you shout at the thought of another assembly tomorrow? We had one today on time-lapse photography.

13 — Did anyone miss that basketball game yesterday, Faculty vs. Students? I hope not. This game proved that the faculty is better than the students. Can you imagine the score being 21-15. Did you see Mr. Bathiany turn a somersaults over Myrtle Wallace? Boy, I didn't know he was so supple.

17 — The girls are really in style. With the help of Mr. Roebuck, they chose nylon caps and gowns in which to graduate. Look how the atomic age is progressing.

20 — The G.A.A. had playday at Hughes. They walked away with flying colors, winning every game.

23 — We had a dog show today. I didn't know dogs had horse sense, ha-ha!

25-26-27 — Exams and sweat in January. Whew, am I glad there will be no more (I hope).

31 — If you don't order your ring today you will be left out because this is positively absolutely the last order.

February

2 — What a disappointment! The groundhog didn't see his shadow. Better luck next time old boy.

10 — Basketball game today. Woodward vs. Hughes. Wow! What a game. We came out on top with a score of 49 to 37.

14 — Oh! Valentine's Day. Did you get a card? Isn't it wonderful? Just a piece of paper but it means so much.

15 — Oh no! Not again. At a time like this they give report cards. Well, I'm not afraid to look but I shudder to think of what I might see.

16 — We did it again; another victory. I'll say we have a powerful basketball team that's mighty tough to beat.

21 — Oh, the Cherry Tree Hack Dance! We're so glad Old George provided a date on our calendar to end the monotony of school with a day packed full of fun.

28 — Senior meeting today. Mr. Roebuck gave us some news about our caps and gowns and our announcements. Later in the meeting Dr. Peaslee lectured to us about good citizenship as well as good scholarship. You know it is necessary that Mr. Roebuck and Mr. Kapphahn have our full attention while talking. Let's co-operate with our wonderful instructors and have the best graduation possible. O. K.?

March

10 — Today is Founder's Day, the day we recall how William Woodward put forth his efforts to establish a fine school. In commemoration of his fine work we set aside this day when the oldest living student rings the Woodward Bell. This year Mrs. Sophia Weiler rang the bell.

14 — Senior boys had a music rehearsal today. Good luck boys — you'll need it.

15 — Senior girls music rehearsal today. That music is more complicated than a course of plane geometry from room 217.

21 — All seniors were measured for caps and gowns today. Just think, only three more months and we'll be wearing them.

24 — Oh goody! Y. C. C. Dance tonight. No stags fellows, all drags, if you all co-operate.

25 — Spring Fling Dance. Oh boy what fun. Everyone and anyone attended. I hope none of you missed it.

28 — G. S. W. Tea for the faculty after school today. We were very happy to have as the guest Mr. Willard Stargel, a graduate of Woodward High School.

31 — Spring Concert tonight. Be sure to bring your family out to hear our wonderful choir and band.

April

1 — Oh such news! Our auditorium is being painted. But what will we do about rehearsal? Oh well, we'll find a way, won't we?

4 — Today the annual pictures of the choir and band will be taken. Won't they make a lovely picture? Don't forget to smile when you see the birdie.

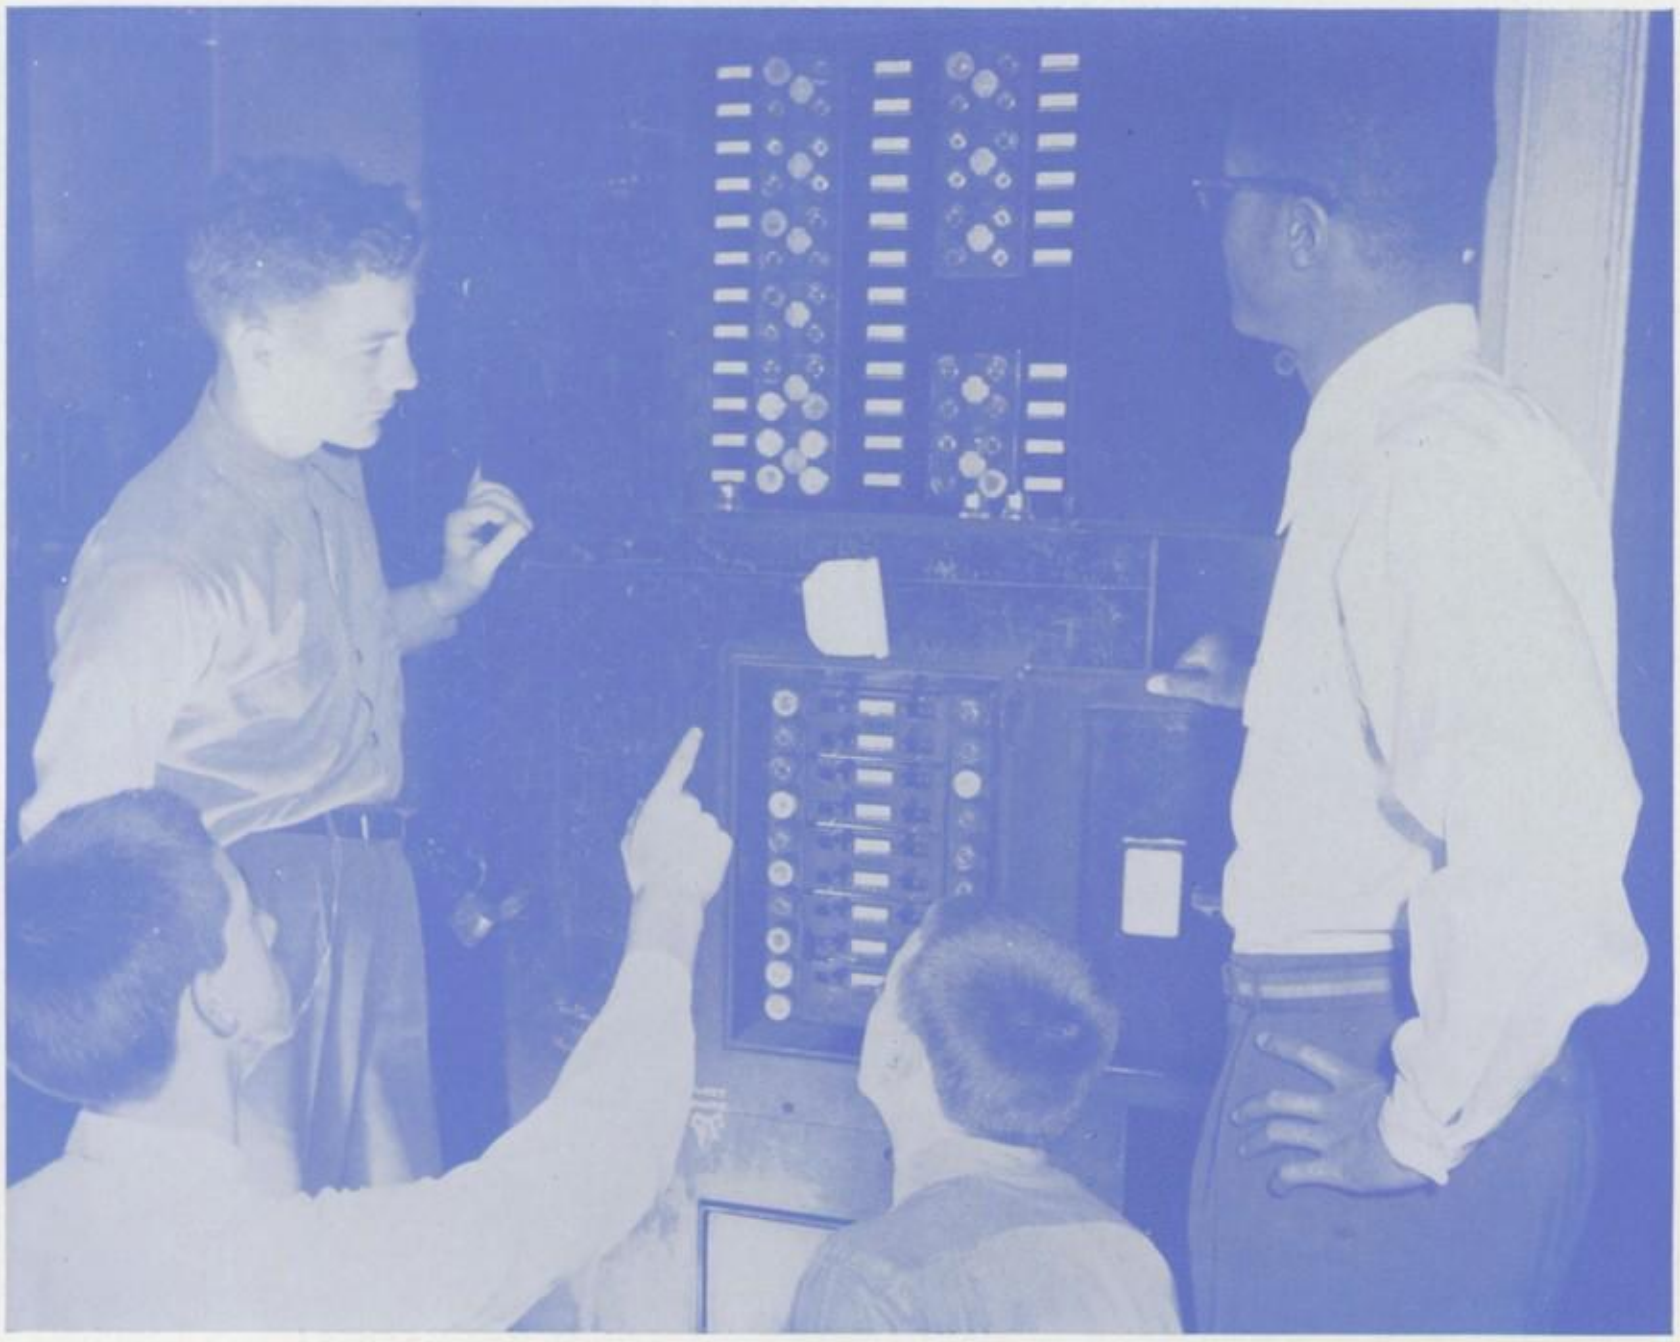
6 — Easter holidays began today and end the tenth. Gosh, we don't want to miss so much school. Who said that? We know you mean it.

11 — Senior music rehearsal the fifth period today. We're getting better every time. I guess it's harder than we thought, but we'll get it.

14 — Choir rehearsal for the May Festival today, sixth period. Oh, you lucky people.

16 — C. D. A. Tea today. We hope you have the success that the G. S. W. had with their tea.

18 — Gee whiz, today is "Opening Day" of the baseball season. Since we get out early, let's all go and have a good time.



May

2 — Class Day rehearsal today. Just a few more weeks and we'll be struggling no more. I guess we'll last.

10 — Oh, my feet. This marching can be very tiresome especially when you do it day after day, hour after hour. I know most of us march in our dreams.

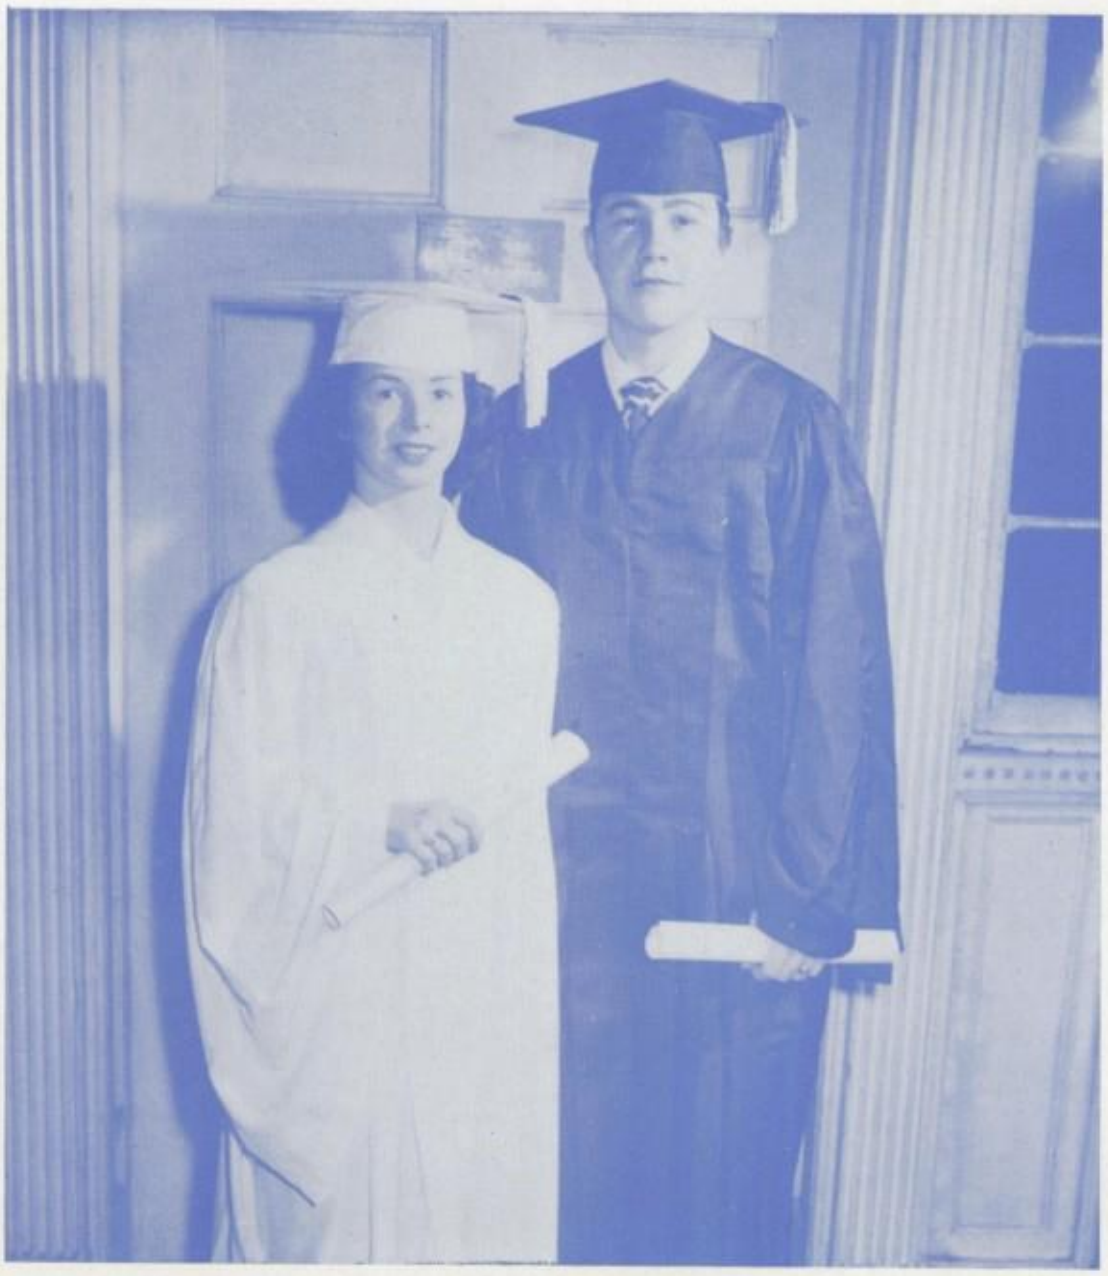
11 - 12 — Such lovely girls as we have here at Woodward. The Varieties of 1950 were displayed today. Good work girls.

16 — Again today! I don't think I'll ever march again for anything. If this wasn't for a good cause . . . of course, we'll continue until we get each step perfect.

22 — Rehearsal again today but there won't be many more days like this. Won't we be happy when we reach the climax of this thing.

26 — Alpha Prom — We'll never forget it — beautiful girls, lovely dresses, delightful music. If it could only last forever.

31 — Everyone of the seniors are tired from marching this month. It's a good thing that there isn't another day in this month because I'm afraid some of us couldn't make it.



June

1 — We have only twelve more days before graduation. It's so hard to wait but we'll have to.

7 — Now we all see what all that marching back in May did for us. None of us dreamed our Class Day would be so lovely. Congratulations to all those who received honors and we hope that you will use them to the best advantage. We hope our underclassmen enjoyed our program as much as we enjoyed giving it. Remember, your turn is coming.

8 — We received, with pleasure and a sigh, our caps and gowns today. Now we can rush out and get our picture taken. What will we do with them? Don't ask silly questions; we'll put them in the trunk, of course.

12 — Graduation exercises take place tonight at Music Hall at eight o'clock. We're leaving for good now and it's not such a good feeling after all. Leaving . . . to come back no more. Oh, cheer up, we can come back and visit some time.
To all our teachers we say good bye and thank you for all that you have done for us.

Class Poem

We're just another graduating class:
There's nothing special in the work we've done;
But though the years slip by or slowly pass,
We'll think back on the battle we have won
We've had our friends; some fought with failing grades;
But now that we are through and soon must leave,
We know these years will slide into the shades
Of what has been forgotten — and we grieve!
A few of us may come to fame; the rest
Will make their mark in business or at home.
Instead of school, that gave to us her best,
A hard, unfeeling world we'll have to face.
Though distant be the countries we may roam,
We'll not forget our faithful friend — this place!

Norma Cuzzort.

The Varsity Football Squad, coached by Mr. Richard Bathiany, Mr. Clifford Alexander, and Mr. Richard Zimmerman, began practice August 20.

The coaches drilled the boys hard and long on the fundamentals and, as the result, produced a smart, fast, aggressive team. Although hindered by size and weight, as usual, the team was able to win two games and tie one while losing six. The team made a very good showing in the Pigskin Preview by beating Hughes (6-0) and tying Western Hills (0-0), the two Public High School champions this year. This year was the first time in four years that Woodward has participated in the Public High School League. Woodward this year, had a team that the students should be proud of, for its courage and spirit stood out in almost every game. We shall look forward to a championship team next year on account of the excellent freshman team and reserve team which should furnish more weight as well as experience.

Co-Captains for 1949 were David McEntyre and Willie Anderson. Curtis Bell, right end was nominated for All-City end.

The scores for the season were: Woodward 7, Lockland 27; Woodward 32, North College Hill 7; Woodward 0, Hamilton Catholic 6; Woodward 19, Central 12; Woodward 6, Hughes 12; Woodward 6, Lima South 6; Woodward 6, Western Hills 12; Woodward 7, Walnut Hills 20; Woodward 0, Withrow 36.

The Freshman football team, coached by Mr. Bob Krausher, had a most successful year. It has been quite a few years since the Bullpups have been organized. During the 49-50 season they won all their games to capture the Freshman Public High School Championship. The boys looked good in winning the championship. This should make the outlook bright for the reserve and varsity next year especially since the boys of the freshman team were larger than the boys on the varsity. This fact cannot fail to help future reserve and varsity teams. William Finch, a sophomore, led the Bullpups in scoring with six touchdowns.

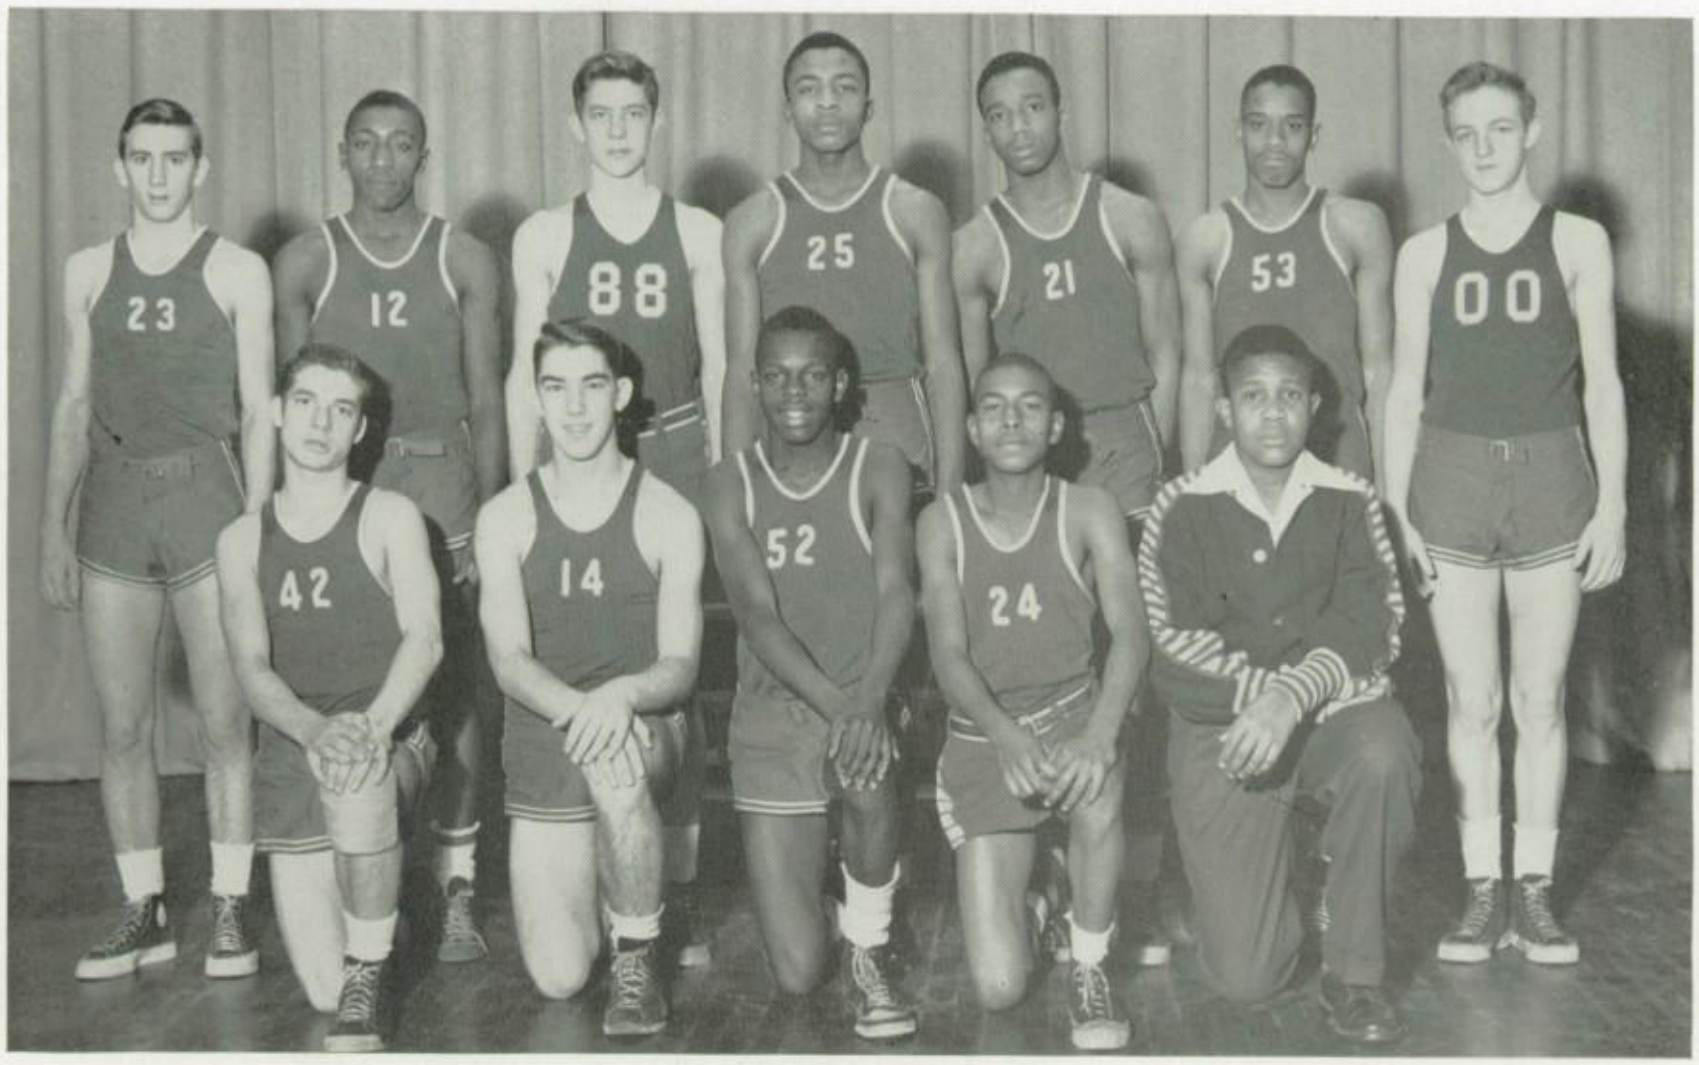
The scores of the games are as follows:

Woodward	19	Withrow	12
Woodward	19	Central	0
Woodward	19	Hughes	6
Woodward	19	Western Hills	6
Woodward	6	Walnut Hills	0

Varsity Basketball

ROW 1—J. Whiting, R. Shaw, T. Earhart, R. Wilson, T. Beyer, H. Johnston.
ROW 2—C. Bell, C. Johnson, E. Fryer, T. Cox, B. Manning, J. Carter, E. Harper.

Reserve Basketball



ROW 1—J. Somori, K. Johnson, C. Jones, D. Simms, C. Marlin.
ROW 2—F. Howard, R. Matthews, J. Young, W. Starkey, S. Broughton, W. Finch, R. Nealy.

The Bulldogs "blew hot and cold" but came through the playing of their schedule with a record of ten wins and eight losses to place above the fifty per cent mark.

It was expected that Woodward would be among the leaders of the Public High School League, but the Blue and White could win no more than four out of ten league games. However, the season was profitable in several respects since the Sycamore squad literally "ran off" with the North College Hill Invitational by beating both Xavier and Taylor soundly. They won a trophy for these victories.

The members of the 1950 Woodward team won citywide notice. Claude Johnson, forward, was elected by coaches and officials to the first string All-City and P. H. S. L. teams. Claude scored a total of 205 points, an average of 13.7 points per game. Curt Bell was first string All-P. H. S. L. guard. He scored 197 points for an average of 10.3 points per game.

Games played and scores are as follows:

Woodward vs. Deer Park	43-31
Woodward vs. Terrace Park	31-30
Woodward vs. Anderson	41-46
Woodward vs. Lockland	50-37
Woodward vs. Hughes	31-33
	49-37
Woodward vs. Central Vocational	41-45
	63-46
Woodward vs. St. Xavier	50-32
Woodward vs. Taylor	58-41
Woodward vs. Withrow	40-30
	42-47
Woodward vs. Mt. Healthy	53-37
Woodward vs. Western Hills	34-38
	23-53
Woodward vs. Norwood	46-51
Woodward vs. Walnut Hills	34-33
	32-56

The Reserve Basketball team, with Coach Bob Kraushar, as its mentor has achieved a fine record during the 1949-50 season. The fastbreaking, aggressive type of basketball displayed accounted for a record of eleven wins and five defeats. Led by such key players as Joe Somori, William Starkey, William Finch, Sylo Broughton and Clennon Jones, the Bullpups scored a total of 460 points.

The team finished second in the league. With a bit of added experience the team should develop into a fine varsity squad next year.

Freshman Basketball

ROW 1—Mr. Krausher, C. Wilcox, J. Halbert, C. Easten, L. Spivey, W. Smith, J. Chambers.
ROW 2—P. Williams, L. Arthur, W. Neal, R. Route, G. Burnett, C. Bryant, G. Robers.

Gym Team

The Toy Bullpups practiced long and hard under the able direction of Coach Bob Kraushar. They gave up Saturday mornings for games and evenings for practice, and what happened? They were the surprise of the Freshman League. A tie with Hughes for the championship and the position of runners-up to Withrow for the tournament was a satisfactory reward for all those hours of work.

With such sharpshooters as Adolph Frazier, James Halbert, William Parker, George Barnett, Robert Route, William Neal, the Toy Bullpups scored 265 points in achieving their fine record. We predict greater victories for them and Woodward next year.

The Woodward High School gymnastic team, under the coaching of Mr. R. L. Zimmermann, provides opportunity for the development of skill and technique on six pieces of apparatus and in tumbling. This sport also provides to the participants maximum muscular development and the opportunity to participate in three P. H. S. L. meets, the final P. H. S. L. all-around meet, the Central Turners American Legion Gymnastic meet, the Central Y. M. C. A. meet, and also the privilege to attend the school for judges and to judge Jr. High and elementary school gymnastic meets.

With eight veterans returning from last years team, the baseball future at Woodward looks much brighter. The veterans around which this years team will be built are James Hamilton, Larry Kilgore, Paul Huff, Ron Warren, Ron Wilson, Elmo White, Win Hall, and Arnold Young. With the addition of such sophomore talent as Joe Somori, Ed. Carroll, Sylv. Broughton, Robert Jackson, Don Hicks, and William Almond it is little wonder that Coach Kraushar is optimistic over the chances of a winning team this year.

Games are scheduled with Norwood, Hughes, and Western Hills as well as Walnut Hills, Central Vocational, and Withrow.

Being impeded by inclement weather, the track squad is having an unusually slow start. With the prospect of more sunshine, however, the season is expected to get into full swing very soon.

Coach Richard Bathiany thinks that with the experience of veteran runners and the promise of new talent the season will prove a successful one. The coach concentrates on developing a junior squad which will supply the foundation on which later teams may be built. The coach's theory demands team balance for strength and a desired proportion of experience and talent for power.

Last season two members of the team gained the honor of participating in the State Track tournament. This season more are expected to receive this honor. Willie Sam Williams has broken the school record for the mile during practice. Willie Anderson, Gerald New, William Parker, and James Hambrick expect to reach six feet in the high jump. Ryland Herndon, participant in the state meet last season, is planning to repeat his performance; and members of the mile relay team — Donald Craig, Allie Jones, Carl Settles, and Dave Thomas are aspiring to participate in the 1954 Olympics.

The purpose of the club is to "Arouse an intelligent interest in all problems of sports and games; to establish student leadership; and to foster good sportsmanship."

The intramural program consists of hockey, volley ball, basketball and softball. For hockey the G. A. A. members trudge twice a week to Deer Creek Commons. For volley ball and basketball they use the girls' gymnasium and for soft ball they hike to Filson Playground. They also participate in the following individual sports: Table tennis, shuffle board, badminton, archery, and tennis.

Officers are as follows:

President — Verta Robinson
Vice-President — Lavonia Johnson
Recording Secretary — Myrtle Wallace

Each Monday a group of girls under the helpful supervision of Miss Betty Essel learn and practice the skills of life saving.

Girls who have reached the age of twelve and are not older than fifteen years, or who are students in the seventh to the tenth grade inclusive, are eligible to take life saving instruction and qualify for Junior Life Saving certificates, provided they are in sound physical condition and have no physical handicap that would render them unable to perform any of the required skills. They must have passed the Red Cross Swimmer's examination before they are ready to attempt the job of learning to save another person's life.

A person must be able to step into the pool and successfully perform the cross chest carry, head carry, tired swimmer's carry, and various other skills used to save a drowning person's life.

A person must pass a written test on the contents of the text used in the course, and must complete seventeen hours of instruction. The usefulness of this knowledge can never be overemphasized.

The tap dancing classes of Woodward High School are under the able direction of Mrs. Edna Rehkamp, girls' physical education teacher.

There are two groups which include girls of the ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades. The first group comes on Tuesday the first bell and the second Tuesday after school.

No specific requirements are made for entrance to these classes. They are carried on in such a way so that the pupils may learn the basic steps of tapping and also acquire posture, poise, and grace.

Through the tireless efforts of the accompanists, Jackie Kolde and Doris Steele, splendid piano music is supplied for the girls.

Shows are presented bi-ennually for the enjoyment and benefit of the school.

The ballet class, under the supervision of Miss Hazel Orr, meets every Thursday morning during the first period. This class is composed of girls of all grades, and the only requirement to be a member of the class is to have an appreciation of fine arts. Its purpose is not to make ballerinas, but to teach the girls to have poise and grace by teaching them dance movements which include the positions of the hands and arms as well as the positions of the feet. Having completed its second year in existence as a Woodward organization, there are many indications that Ballet will continue to be among Woodward's permanent clubs.

Annual Staff

Editor — Audrey Kitchen.

Advertising Staff — Gerald New, Virginia Yates, Marion Rokich, Steve Blackwell, Myrtle Wallace.

Literary Staff — Ed. Morris, James Hambrick, Richard Vice, Joyce Epure, Marlene Wyatt, Elizabeth Miller.

The Annual Staff is composed of students from the senior class who give their time and efforts to promote the Woodward Annual. The actual work of the publication rests on the shoulders of the staff, but the co-operation of the entire senior class as well as the whole student body is, indeed, absolutely important for a successful Annual. The time, effort, and initiative that is required to publish a year book practically equals the financial expense involved. Truly, it is an undertaking requiring endless devotion and unlimited school spirit.

The effort spent in soliciting ads for the Annual is sincerely appreciated by the staff members. We would like to thank the Annual Staff and the following students for their co-operation in soliciting ads: Willie Anderson, Laverne Kuhnheim, Virginia Yates, Marvin Grizzard, Ben Bryant, Virginia Farthing, and Mary Reyes. Also we would like to extend thanks to the Y groups and the other school clubs that gave their whole-hearted support in financing the Annual through the purchase of ads.

The sale of the Annual is a big job in itself and we certainly thank the homeroom representatives for their co-operation in presenting the Annual to the students, caring for financial details, and for their help in the final distribution. Our sincere appreciation goes to those who typed material for the Annual and those who wrote certain articles, poems, and write-ups for the senior class.

The Annual Staff, with the co-operation of the senior class, has worked diligently to maintain the high standard of previous Woodward Annuals. We sincerely hope the students enjoy the 1950 Annual.

Audrey Kitchen, Editor.

Woodward Band

The Woodward Band enjoyed a year of varied activities which started with the usual football rush. The first practice was called two weeks before the opening of school in preparation for the annual Pigskin Preview. Besides entertaining the fans with such novel football shows as a Merry-go-Round and a Square Dance, the band scored a hit with the popular Hucklebuck, which was accompanied by dance steps. Following a performance at the Woodward-Hamilton Catholic game the Hamilton Journal printed the following statement:

> "We've seen many good visiting bands at the athletic field in recent years but never anything to beat the Woodward organization."

The next event was the Christmas Balloon Parade held on November 5th. The band also took part in Founders Day and the Alumni program. Then came the Spring Concert which was held on March 31st. The remainder of the year brought forth the usual spring parades.

Three quartets journeyed to Oxford to participate in the Southwestern Ohio Competition Music Festival. All three quartets received Division I ratings which made them eligible for entrance in the State finals, April 22nd. Members of these groups are as follows:

Clarinet Quartet — Bernice Benton, James Cowan, Doris Steele, Betty Saylor.

Trumpet Quartet — Clifford Millward, William Johnson, Adolph Denson, Lee Tucker.

Trombone Quartet — Warren Grace, Willie Williams, Charles Burress, William Brown.

The band also plans to present a Variety Show this year on May 11th and 12th, proceeds from which are to be used to pay transportation expenses during next year's football season. The band is also making plans for participating in the city wide band festival. Of the many former graduates who visited the band this year, it was learned that many are holding responsible positions in Army and Navy bands throughout the country.

One of the most significant organizations of our school is the Student Council which is composed of forty students, ten representing each class. These members are nominated by petition and elected by the grade they represent. The students who run are capable of solving problems which may come before the Council as they have high standards of citizenship and of scholarship and are willing to serve.

Some of the problems put before the Council are conducting clothing drives, collecting funds for the Red Cross and other organizations, and choosing auditorium assemblies. This year, for the first time, the Council has undertaken to set up a monitor system in the gym locker rooms.

The Executive Committee is composed of ten members elected by the Council and the three officers. The purpose of this committee is to conduct such business as needs immediate attention between regular meetings of the Council. The entire Student Council body hears the reports of the Executive Committee, ratifies any decision the smaller group has made since the last regular meeting, and then discusses and takes action on all other business.

The club is divided into four parts, Iota and Kappa for girls, Theta and Sigma for boys. Each group must maintain a maximum membership of twenty-five and each member must maintain grades of eighty or above. Members must be in good standing with teachers and students.

One of the most active and worthwhile organizations at Woodward is the Visual Aids Club. This group meets on Tuesday after school whenever such action is considered necessary. To become a member a pupil needs nothing save the will to serve, an interest in cameras and the ability to learn to operate a motion picture projector. These students willingly sacrifice a study period whenever a teacher wishes to have a film displayed to his class.

The Visual Aids Club is directed by Mr. Alfred Rubendunst to whom both the faculty and student body owe a sincere vote of thanks for providing operators and maintaining the machines in first class condition.

The Goal Striving Woodwardites is an organization of outstanding senior girls who have displayed outstanding merit, scholarship and citizenship.

This club was formed during the war, under the direction of Miss Hazel Orr, for the purpose of carrying on wartime activities. Since then it has taken part in Little Sister Projects in an effort to develop leadership.

Each member of the club has a certain number of Little Sisters (freshmen girls) whom they aid whenever necessary in any way possible. The girls try to familiarize the Little Sisters with our school and to encourage them to take part in school activities and to develop good scholarship.

This year the club has done many interesting things: It has given a party for the Little Sisters, a tea for the teachers, aid to The Colored Orphanage, a party for boys of the senior class, and many other activities.

The officers of the club are:

President — Christine Grigsby

Vice-President — Maggie Brown

Secretary — Loraine Moreland

Treasurer — Doris Steele

Editor — Evelyn Green

The Young Cincinnatians' Club is beginning its seventh year as an all-Woodward Club. The club consists of Woodward graduates and students. Except during football and basketball seasons this group meets every Friday night at the Y. W. C. A. in its own club room. The purpose of this club is to develop good citizenship and character.

The activities and programs of the club are planned by a council consisting of six girls and six boys under the guidance and supervision of Miss Katherine Wickwire. Activities include dancing and games such as ping-pong, cards and chess, hayrides, moonlight picnics and parties. In our kitchen refreshments are prepared and served.

Officers of the club are:

President — Irene Watt
Vice-President — Richard Beyer
Secretary — Ada Goodlander
Treasurer — Thomas Beyer
Sergeant-at-Arms — Norma Pennington, David McEntyre

Each year new boys are carefully chosen by their advisor, Miss Higgins, to work with the experienced stagehands who have already participated in this activity. Whenever the auditorium is used, the stagehands do the necessary work.

Some of the special events which the stagehands helped make successful by their back stage work were: Spring Concert, Alumni Meeting, Woodward Variety Show and Class Day for the Class of 1950.

The stagehands must be familiar with the operation of the house lights, the curtains, and the microphone in the auditorium. Most of the work is done during the boys' study periods which they devote to giving this service to the school. The boys receive service points for this work.

The members for this year are Tom Beyer, George Whittaker, Gilbert Berry, Willie Anderson, Ed Carrol, Troy Earhart, Eugene Martin, and Dick Beyer.

The Journalism Class, which is composed of seniors outstanding in English, has as its chief duty the production of Woodward's student publication, The Woodward Bulldog. A textbook on Journalism is studied for the principles and practices of newswriting. These are then applied to the production of the Bulldog, which is published twice a month.

Each member of the class has an assigned job on the paper, a job which must be done accurately and efficiently each time the deadline has to be met.

The Bulldog was first published in September 1941, under the supervision of Mrs. Grace Schiele Walker. Mrs. Walker served as faculty advisor until 1948 when the present advisor, Mrs. Marjorie McKinney assumed the responsibility.

The editorial staff of the Bulldog for this year is as follows:

Editor — Arthur Page
Assistant Editor — Richard Vice
Business Manager — Shirley Yee
Commercial Editor — Odell Lyons
Circulation Manager — Steve Reynolds
Advertising Manager — David Thomas

The Cubs Club is an organization of junior reporters for the "Bulldog". These pupils assist the regular staff by gathering news, typing copy and contributing articles and ideas.

Membership is open to any interested student. Service points are awarded on the basis of the number of articles contributed or the amount of time spent by each individual on Bulldog activities. Meetings are held at intervals to discuss problems, policies and newspaper style. Thus Cubs receive training for membership on the regular Bulldog staff.

Through the efforts of the Cubs Club members the Bulldog is able to furnish more complete coverage of the news.

Majorettes

KNEELING — J. Lewis, J. Jordan.
STANDING — I. Johnson, H. Young, J. Workman, D. Brown.

Cheerleaders

M. Staton, J. Stephens, K. Hamilton, J. Phillips, L. Cannon, J. McMillan, V. Keith, M. Wallace.

Our majorettes, this year, are very decorative, adding glamour and beauty to the band with their fresh sparkle and enchantment.

The majorettes are chosen from a group of contestants by a faculty committee. They put in many hours of back-stage practice for the few hours they appear before us. In this way they earn service points towards their letters.

We are proud of their bewitching smiles and supple grace.

The cheerleaders set an example of good fellowship at Woodward High School by attending all football, basketball, and baseball games, keeping down unfriendly matters, and leading the school in cheers, whether the team is losing or winning.

The boys and girls who are interested meet each morning before school to learn the motions and words of the cheers from the veteran cheerleaders. Those who are faithful in attendance have the opportunity to cheer at the reserve basketball games.

To be a cheerleader one has added responsibilities, one must always be loyal to the school and team, show courtesy and respect for other schools, and have the enthusiasm and vitality required. "Although it is a difficult task at times, the pleasures and joys we receive as cheerleaders are well worth the effort."

The jobs of the students vary. They may work in the lunchroom as cashiers, in the faculty lunchroom as waitresses, or assistants to the cooks.

The squad which works in the hall is composed of senior boys and girls. In order to work in the lunchroom the students must have a pleasing disposition and know the art of cooperation.

The American Problems Clubs are organized to give students an opportunity to discuss current issues which are of vital interest to them. The programs and activities are planned to center around subjects of local, national, and international scope, the problems facing young citizens of today and social and economic conditions affecting their school and community. These programs are presented through debates, forums, the Junior Town Meeting, discussion procedure, motion pictures, and guest speakers.

Our Latin Club is very aptly named. It is constituted by members in the fifth bell class of second year Latin. We have Latin, Latin, and more Latin. Our translations help us to better understand ancient history and our Latin grammar is beneficial to us in our English work, and also in our vocabulary, since many of our English words have Latin origin. Persons who plan to make careers of nursing, chemistry or other occupations related to the medical or scientific field will find that an everyday knowledge of Latin would help to further them in these immensely.

The seniors of the comprehensive secretarial class have formed a club, "The Senior Secretarial Club", under the sponsorship of Miss Marjorie E. Callahan.

The purpose of the club is to obtain a broader view of the duties of a secretary by having speakers from the business world address the club and by making visits to offices so that pupils may have a preview and better understand the modern commercial methods. By these direct contacts with the business we hope to learn what is expected of a stenographer in the different types of industry, and to understand better how to advance in secretarial work. The subjects discussed at meetings include the proper way to dress in an office and standards of conduct in any and all conditions.

Besides giving information in these things, the club stresses the acquisition of fundamental techniques and skills of a secretary. These fundamentals together with other personal qualities are absolutely essential if members are to attain the heights they have set for themselves.

Class officers for the year 1949-50 are:

President — Myrtle Wallace
Secretary — Gwendolyn Finney
Treasurer — Mary Alice West

The girls and boys of the second bell Public Speaking Class organized a club called "Speakers of Tomorrow." The purpose of this club is to try to improve the members' speech and diction, and to become better acquainted with fellow classmates. Treasurer — Delores Floyd

The Vox Pop Club is the unusual name which Mrs. McKinney's fourth bell class has given to its speech club. The English translation of these words is the voice of the people.

Biggest Machine in The World

It's so easy to make a telephone call! A five-year-old can do it. Yet, when you use your telephone you have at your command the biggest, most complex machine ever made by man — ready to whisk your voice across the street or across the country, as you wish. It's BIG to serve the people of the community, of the nation, but its operation is geared to your individual need.
